

THE SUNFLOWER

A PUBLICATION OF THE KANSAS CHAPTER OF DELTA UPSILON

SUMMER 2025

BETTER THAN EVER

*Help Build
What Comes Next*

It is an honor to reach out to you in my new role as president of the Kansas DU Educational Foundation. I'm privileged to serve at such a pivotal and historic time for our Chapter. As many of you know, we are officially back on campus, and the Chapter is thriving once again. I'd like to share a bit of background on the rechartering process and my involvement with this inspiring group of young men.

After my years on Emery Road, my career and family took me to Arizona, where my wife and I raised our children. Fast forward to 2020, and our son Kenzy Rolley '24 chose to attend the University of Kansas. During his campus tour, we visited the DU house, which at the time was sadly closed and shuttered.

After his freshman year, Kenzy came home determined to bring DU back to KU. He had the passion and vision to make it happen. Through an introduction to Rod Barleen '97 by Grant Kaufman '92, Kenzy began navigating the uncharted waters of reestablishing DU on campus and reclaiming the DU house—our house.

Thanks to the incredible efforts of Rod, John Esau '78, and many others, Delta Upsilon officially received its charter back in the spring of 2023. The founding class included 24 young men. That number has since grown to 50, and the Chapter is working hard to continue recruiting high-quality members!

I'm excited to be involved as Kansas DU begins rebuilding its legacy. Delta Upsilon has deep roots at KU, and I firmly believe that with our support, the Chapter will continue to offer a meaningful and transformative experience for generations of young men.

As we enter year three of having the Chapter back in the house, it's time to rebuild our support system. There are opportunities for everyone to get involved. We're currently seeking volunteers for both the Housing Corporation and Educational Foundation boards. We also need your financial support to continue offering a top-tier fraternity experience at KU.

If you're in a position to give, regardless of your past donor status, please consider making a contribution! (See page 6 for information on how to support Kansas Delta Upsilon financially.)

Let's work together to honor the legacy built by those who came before us. Now it's our turn to make a lasting impact.

Dikaia Upotheke,
Blake Rolley '84
President, Kansas DU Educational Foundation

Making Their Vision Our Reality

The executive board attends the Regional Leadership Academy in Kansas City.

THE ALUMNI IMPACT

"What does the ultimate fraternity experience look and feel like?" That was the core question asked at our recent Advisory Board meeting with Chapter leadership, and you would have been proud of the answers our undergraduates gave.

Their responses weren't just idealistic; they were thoughtful, honest, and grounded in the values that have always made Kansas DU something special. They spoke of legacy and leadership, yes, but also of belonging and of building a space where young men are challenged, supported, and shaped into leaders who are defined not by what they consume, but by what they contribute.

They imagine a Chapter that embodies true brotherhood rooted in shared values, mutual accountability, and a desire to grow together. They envision a culture that prioritizes academics and wellness but still makes room for fun, celebration, and deep friendships. They see our Chapter as a launchpad not just for college success but also for lifelong impact.

The conversation was inspiring and provided a clear reminder: they can't build that experience alone. This is where alumni like you come in to be mentors and stewards of this legacy. The next generation is asking for the same things many of us once needed. Now is our time to show up.

Here's how you can help bring their vision to life:

Become a Mentor: Share your time and experience with a student leader or new member navigating college, careers, and life.

Attend an Event: Whether it's an alumni banquet, a KU football Saturday, or simply joining the Chapter for dinner, your presence strengthens the brotherhood.

Open a Door: Offer an internship, résumé help, or a simple conversation with a member interested in your field.

Tell Your Story: Record or write a short reflection on what the fraternity meant to you. It's powerful to hear from those who came before.

Give What You Can: Whether time, talent, or a financial gift, every contribution moves the mission forward.

The "ultimate fraternity experience" doesn't occur by accident—it's something we build together. Let's ensure these young men experience the same transformative brotherhood we were fortunate to receive. Because this is still your Chapter, and it needs you now more than ever!

THANK YOU, LOYAL DONORS!

"Our past is secure; our future depends upon our vigilance" is a line we have all recited during Initiation. We greatly appreciate the following brothers who loyally stepped forward with financial support to help the Kansas Chapter return to campus in the past year. But our needs to maintain the chapter house, support the leadership training with programs, and attract diverse and talented new members with scholarships continue to grow. Please include the Kansas Chapter of Delta Upsilon among your annual giving priorities.

DELTA UPSILON

2025-26 GOALS FOR KANSAS CHAPTER

EXPAND PHILANTHROPY EFFORTS

We aim to grow our community impact by hosting at least one major annual philanthropy event in partnership with a local nonprofit. A dedicated committee will lead planning and execution, with support from local businesses and sponsors. We'll set clear fundraising goals and promote events through social media, flyers, and campus outreach to boost awareness and attendance.

STRENGTHEN RECRUITMENT

To continue building our brotherhood, we're implementing a year-round recruitment strategy beyond formal recruitment. Events like open houses, mixers, and interest sessions will help attract new members. We'll highlight Delta Upsilon's values in all outreaches, involve current members as recruitment ambassadors, and prioritize a diverse and inclusive environment.

RECONNECT WITH ALUMNI

We're committed to strengthening alumni ties through annual events like Homecoming tailgates and alumni weekends. We plan to form an alumni advisory board to support Chapter leadership and mentorship. Additionally, we'll develop an online network to connect alumni with each other and with undergraduates.

CAMPUS SPOTLIGHT

The Booth's Next Chapter

David Booth Kansas Memorial Stadium—affectionately known as “The Booth”—is a symbol of the University of Kansas’s rich athletic tradition and a tribute to the 129 university members who gave their lives in World War I. It has served as the home of Jayhawk football since its inception.

The stadium’s story began in 1920 after a 20-20 tie against Nebraska under coach Phog Allen sparked a fundraising campaign. Nearly $225,000 was raised, and construction began on May 10, 1921. The stadium was officially dedicated on November 11, 1922.

Over the years, the stadium has seen several major upgrades:

1925 AND 1927: Seating expansions, including the north bowl, increased capacity to 35,000.

1963 AND 1965: Additional expansions brought capacity to over 51,000.

1970: Natural grass was replaced with artificial turf.

1997-99: Major renovations added permanent lighting, a new press box, updated locker rooms, and luxury suites.

2009: FieldTurf was installed, and the track was removed to create a football-only facility.

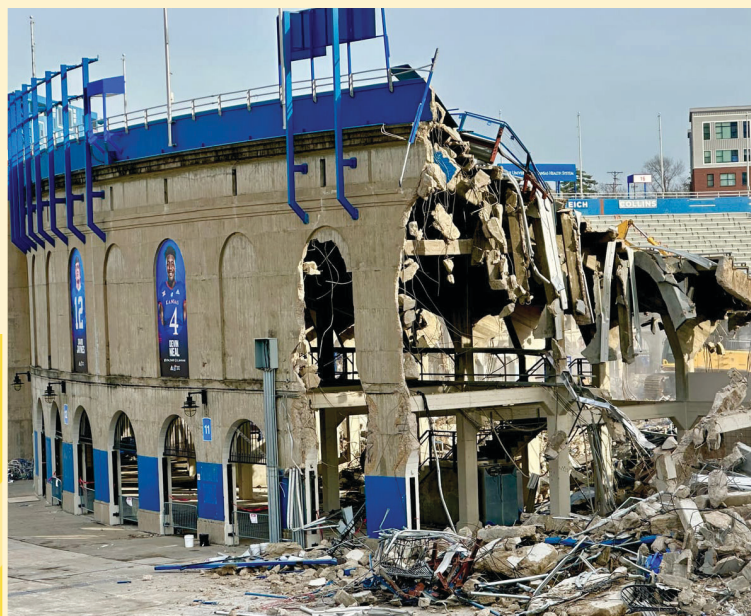

In 2017, the stadium was renamed in honor of alumnus David G. Booth, who pledged a record $50 million gift to Kansas Athletics. Booth also donated the original rules of basketball by James Naismith and funded the Booth Family Hall of Athletics.

Today, the stadium is undergoing a transformative renovation as part of the University of Kansas Gateway Project. Phase one, slated for completion in August 2025, includes:

- New seatbacks on the north and west sides.
- Expanded concessions, restrooms, and premium seating (including club seats and suites).
- A new, larger video board.
- A reconfigured capacity of approximately 40,000 to improve the overall fan experience.

From its origins as a World War I memorial to its future as a modern sports venue, The Booth remains a cornerstone of KU tradition and pride!

UPDATES FROM THE UNDERGRADUATES

The 2024-25 academic year has been another impactful and memorable one for the Kansas Chapter of Delta Upsilon. As always, our Chapter remains dedicated to academic excellence, leadership development, and service to others. With a strong cumulative GPA of 3.3, our members prioritize scholarship while staying actively involved on campus and in the Lawrence community.

Philanthropy and service are both cornerstones of our brotherhood. Many of our members have generously volunteered their time and talents across various community initiatives, reinforcing our commitment to Delta Upsilon's founding principle: "Justice, Our Foundation." Whether participating in campus service events or engaging in charitable outreach, we take pride in putting the needs of others before our own.

We are also proud to stand among the top-performing Delta Upsilon chapters nationwide. This semester, our executive board attended the Regional Leadership Academy in Kansas City, where they connected with peers from other chapters and returned with fresh ideas to strengthen our operations. We are also sending representatives to the upcoming Leadership Institute in Louisville, Kentucky, as well as the Delta Upsilon Emerging Leaders Experience at Williams College. These programs are invaluable in equipping our members with the tools and knowledge to lead effectively.

Mitchell Hans '27 and Jacob Podrebarac '27 represented the Chapter in a memorial pickleball tournament honoring DU alumnus Sean Biggs. Events like these help us build stronger connections with alumni while celebrating the legacy of those who came before us.

Additionally, our executive board has worked closely with alumni advisors throughout the year, fostering a collaborative path toward sustained growth and success.

In summary, the Kansas Chapter of Delta Upsilon has experienced a successful and enriching year academically, socially, and philanthropically. As we look ahead, we remain focused on building an even stronger brotherhood rooted in leadership, service, and lifelong friendship!

Fraternally,
Mark Wappler '26
President
